Hi,

I'm a resident within 3 minutes walk from the Broadwalk shopping centre.

Myself and my family use the shopping centre at least twice a week and it plays a vital role in our day to day lives.

We would be very disappointed in seeing huge change in the town centre. We have 3 children in primary school and pop in to pick up supplies from The Works, clothes from TK maxx and choice and just bits and bobs WHSmiths and Poundland.

It's our go to just to get out at weekends and go for a walk and pick up a few bits.

The development will lead to designer expensive shops which we won't be shopping in, the high-rise blocks will block out so much sunlight, including casting a shadow over our garden in the afternoons. There will be parking issues and just not enough school places nor dentist or Dr appointments.

I already have problems with blokes sitting on my garden wall and tossing their empties onto my flowerbeds.

There' are already too many people in Edgware, the wrong sort, and bringing more to the area should be reconsidered. A greater population in Edgware will put too much strain on the already stretched services.

Please spare a thought for the residents and reconsider the plans to build ugly imposing buildings and bringing excessive people to a peaceful and quiet community that is Edgware

Thank you

Vanita
